WSP USA INSPECTION SERVICES DISASTER AWARENESS REPORT

December 1, 2025

Winter Storm

- A cross-country storm starts Sunday in the Rockies and tracks through Wednesday into the Northeast.
- Snow will develop across portions of the northern Rockies and pivot south, bringing possible snow showers to Utah, Colorado and New Mexico.
- 3-5 inches of snow could fall from northern Missouri into northern Illinois.
- Snow will also extend into the Ohio River Valley, expecting to see snow accumulations of 1-3 inches.
- Ice poses a bigger concern for major interstates in Arkansas and Oklahoma as the cold arctic air lingers.
- Cities such as Tulsa, Little Rock and Fort Smith are in the threat zone for patchy snow and potential ice disruptions.
- Threats of ice are likely in West Virginia and the Virginia mountains, as potentially snow or rain will impact parts of the Northeast.
